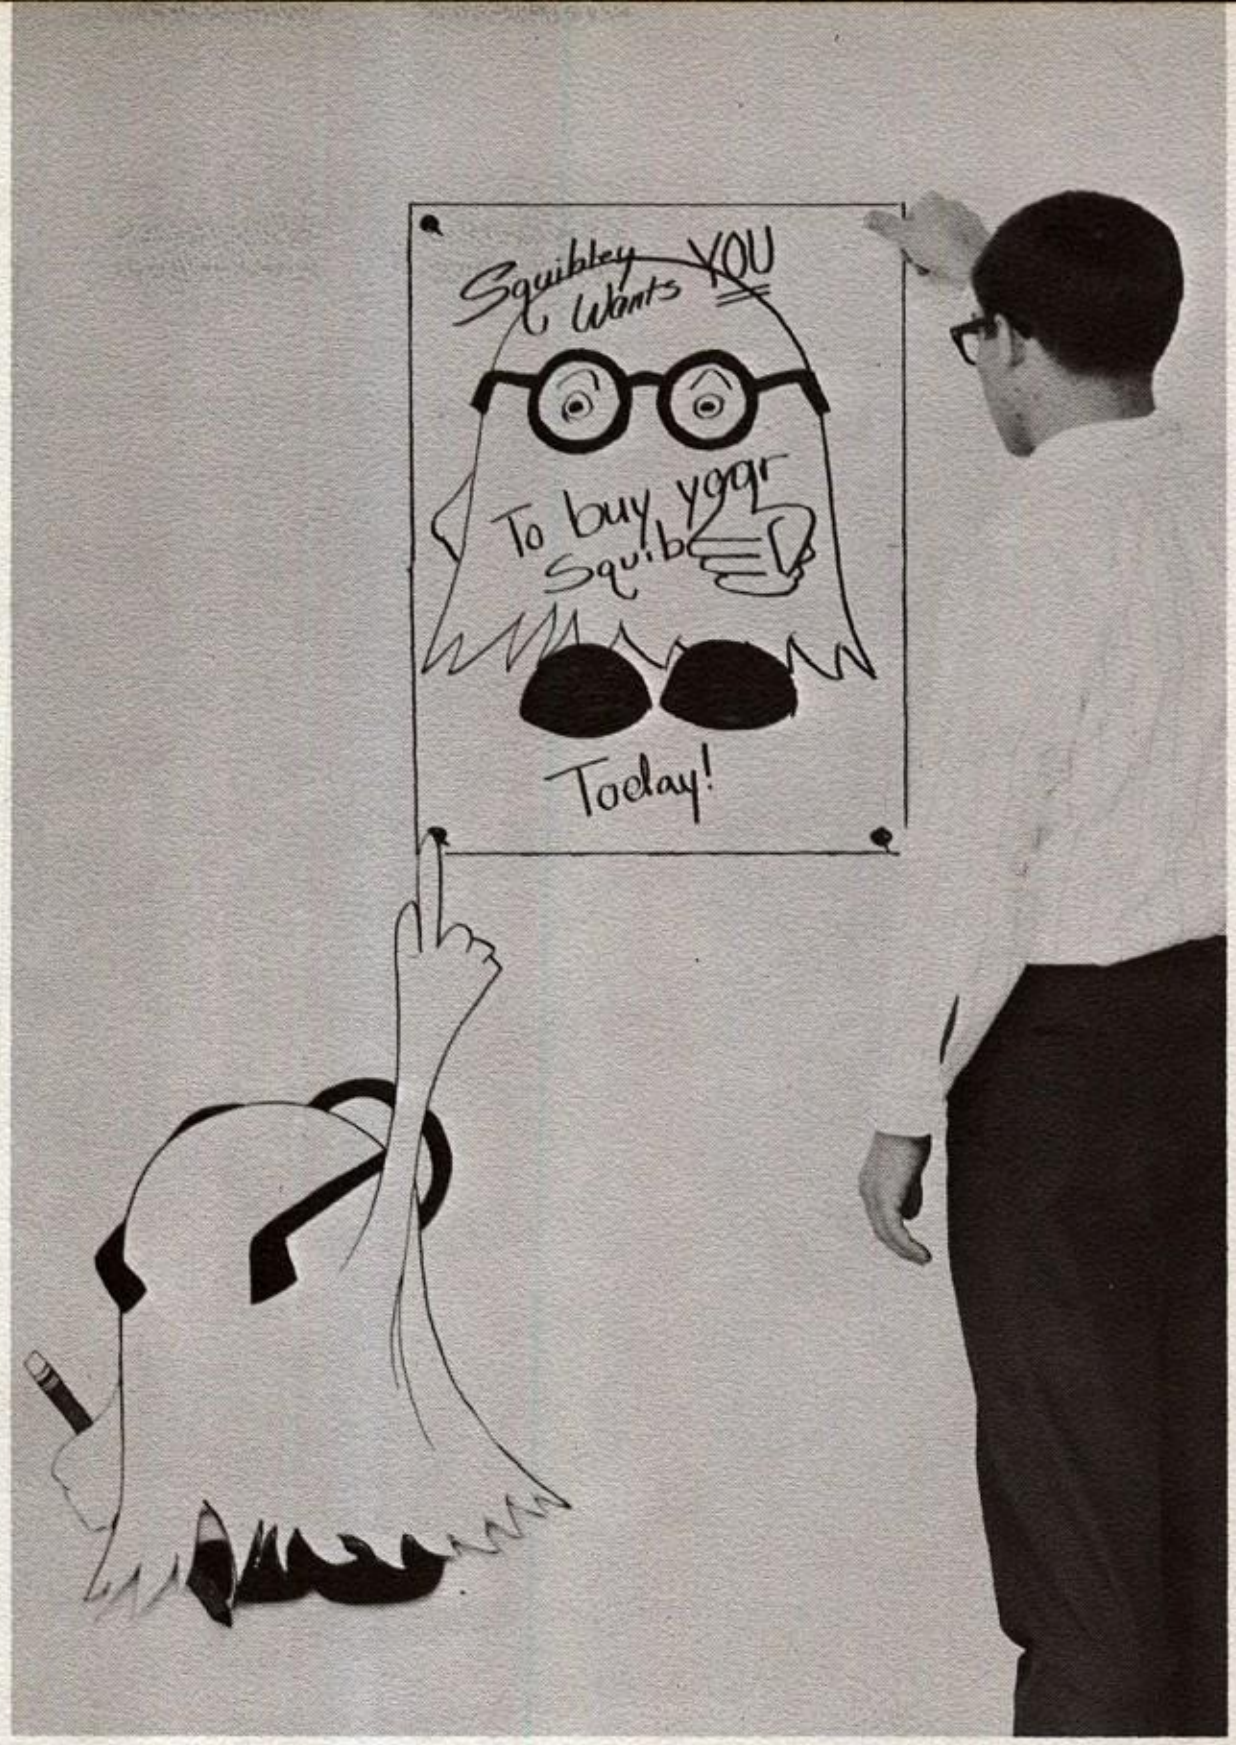
From the time we were freshman until now, our senior year, we have been a part of S.H.S. How many of us said we couldn't wait until graduation? Now the time has come! Are we ready to start over again, meeting new friends and seeing strange faces? How sad we'll be on graduation night when we say good-bye forever to S.H.S.

But first, before we leave let us give you a candid view of how we live at Shelby High. Let us take you where the action is!

Action Is!!



Above—Pete Hall and Squibley put up a poster together. Squibley, our Squib Mascot is a familiar face around S.H.S. He assists the staff members with the sale of Squibs, putting the book together and boosting school spirit. Ask Squibley; he'll tell you where the action is!

Summer months catch many SHS students

Above—Sallie Sears and Sylvia O'Neal attended the Government Leadership Conference.

Right—Janet Rowland, Melanie Martin, Janie Adams, Susan Holtel and Sally Molder traveled to Girls' State this summer.

If some think summer is a time for swimming, playing golf and water skiing, that's the wrong idea. Just ask these students at S.H.S. Some students attended summer institutes for math and government and others for student council and yearbook. They brought their ideas back to us; and therefore we all benefited from the courses. While some of us were soaking in some sunshine, others were learning new skills and preparing for the future.

To Denise,
I'd like to say something kind and polite like everyone else but all I can think of is "Some thing Stupid". Maybe we will see each other this summer which would make the summer extremely spectacular. Hi, Joe! That's for when he reads it.
Maintain you cool during the summer to come

Actors present old-fashioned melodrama

On the evenings of December 6 and 7, Mask and Dagger presented "No Mother to Guide Her; or More to be Pitied than Censured", a melodrama in the old theater tradition. The suspense mounted as our young, innocent heroine, Spring, falls in love with Casper, the shining example of manhood. Complications arise from Spring's amnesia and the murder of Casper's father by Talbert Twillingham, the mustached-twirling villian. As always, right wins and virtue triumphs.

Isn't it amazing—all of the fads that come and go—the saddles, hip-huggers, p i e r c e d ears, sweetheart rings, paisley shirts, plaid pants, over-the-knee-socks, long hair (on boys as well as girls) seem really neat to us, but the older generation thinks otherwise. These fads express freedom throughout the nation; something that few countries really have. It takes these new ideas and the nerve to spread them to help our country grow.

Here at S.H.S. we express our ideas by the way we talk and dress. Yes, there is quite a variety of ideas, but without this variety, what would there be to look forward to?

Loyal fans display school spirit through pep

We've got spirit—we've got spirit everybody!

During the week of February 20-27, everyone at Shelby High is excited about the sectionals. This is the week that everyone in the school can feel as if he is doing something to help our team to victory. Bright signs in the halls, a pep rally in the gym and the exciting conversations throughout the school are just some of the many activities that take place during spirit week. We've got a great team and this is the one week of the whole year that we let everyone know it.

The students of Shelby have spirit the year round, but spirit week gives us a chance to really show it.

After all of the candidates reached the front of the bleachers where the spectators were seated, Bill Haehl, Student Council president, crowned Barbara Scott Homecoming Queen for 1966.

Later in November, the Annual Fall-Wind-Up Dance was held. Barbara Scott and her court reigned, as the boys participating in fall sports received their awards.

Indiana's Sesquicentennial celebration sets

Amid the excitement, tears, and suspense of the 1966 May Festival, Jean Metz was crowned Queen of the May by Lord Mayor Dan McCabe.

The Festivities continued as the Dance Band and Show Group entertained with selections relating to the Indiana Sesquicentennial. The night ended with the Queen and her court being escorted through the floral arches as the Dance Band played the traditional Country Gardens. The 1966 May Festival was over but it will live long in the memories of those who attended.

She is going to the University of Dayton to major in communications and he plans to study range management at Colorado State University.

Pam, also one of the cheerleaders on this year's court, enjoys swimming and golfing, and plans to study physical education next year at Purdue. Dave, who was junior class vice president, has been playing in the band for four years and will also be at Purdue next year.

Junior Prom shifts from 'The Magic

The Magic of Spring was the setting of the 1966 Junior Prom. From the beginning of February to Friday, May 13, the day of the prom, the committees worked hard putting up the beautiful decorations, flowers, and all the other necessities for the memorable prom that it was.

Isn't it hard to believe the Paul Cross gym could be converted into a world of flowers, fountains, trees, and picket fences?

The pastel net ceiling that gave the illusion of a beautiful spring sky, the little pond filled with tropical fish, the summerhouse surrounded by green grass and flowers of bright colors, and the tables with rose topiary tree centerpieces, all gave the gym the feeling of spring. It was an enchanting evening—truly the "Magic of Spring."

The theme of the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom will be "Mardi Gras". Larry Lewis and Ann Clay, general chairmen, along with the Junior class officers are now directing the members of the various committees making the decorations, choosing a band, planning the refreshments, and taking care of the numerous pre-Prom arrangements.

The members of the court were elected for the first time by the entire Junior class. Those selected were Judy Christian, Mary Coffin, and Christi Eads. However, no one will know who the queen is until Junior class president Dwaine Smith crowns one of these girls before the Grand March at the Prom.

But right up until the night of the Prom, the Junior Committees will be working furiously to complete the decorations to transform the gym into the festive mood of the Latin Quarter during Mardi Gras.

Developing by learning, learning by building,

Someday that muddy parking lot, those loose scraps of board, all of the cranes, and other building materials will be gone. Yes, gone! And what will we have in their place? Well, listen! A beautiful gymnasium for our Golden Bears, a swimming pool, and modern auditorium, new classrooms and many other modern facilities will extend throughout S.H.S. Imagine taking a dip in the pool when it is –4 outside, putting on a play at our auditorium and using new equipment for learning.

Some of us will never be able to take advantage of our school when it is completed, but the underclassmen will begin using the new facilities next fall. Do they realize how lucky they are?

Academics

Taking a high school subject can be more fun than expected. Each year more and more students become interested in school academics. Giving a speech, writing a term paper, growing plants, finding their answers through experiments, learning to speak foreign languages, finding the area of a tetrahedron, studying shorthand and typing, and learning to sew, to build, to draw, to farm, and to sing are challenges for each student to meet.

Young scientists enter complicated world of Science has become a fascinating course to Biology, Chemistry, and Physics students, even though they have to contend with strange sounds, weird smells, the insides of frogs, and complicated math problems.

Biology and Life Science were offered to both freshmen and sophomores for the first time this year. In these classes pupils study bacteria and fungi, dissect frogs, grasshoppers, and earthworms. Students also experiment with plants in the greenhouse. Each person in these classes must complete a special project in order to receive credit for the course. These projects range from one-day experiments to the year-long care of rats, mice, insectivorous plants, or fish aquariums.

Chemical formulas, molecular make-up, and hydrocarbon compounds are problems that baffle Chemistry students at first, but later in the year, these terms become everyday language for them.

In Physics class, seniors study why things happen and delve into the principles of sound, electricity, heat, light, gravity, and nuclear reactions.

This year for the first time, Chemistry and Physics classes have been divided into two sections. For those who intend to major in scientific fields in college, theoretical Chemistry and Physics offer a more detailed look at why reactions take place, while the applied course gives a more general background of study.

SHS now offers six math courses to the students—general math, Algebra I, plane geometry, Algebra II, trigonometry and analytic geometry.

Business math is offered to those who plan to enter the business world. General math students learn the principles of arithmetic. Applying axioms, postulates, and theorems keep plane geometry students busy. Learning to factor and solve quadratic equations take much of the algebra students' time. Advanced math classes make extensive use of graphs, solids, and the theory of functions.

Our Social Studies Department helps to give us a strong feeling for our American heritage. Required subjects are world history, United States history, government, and either economics or American problems. Electives offered for the first time are psychology, international relations, and South American history.

World history classes discuss and study ancient civilizations, medieval history, and twentieth century events. United States history informs students of our country and its policies from Columbus' discovery to Viet Nam. Students in government classes learn the operation of our government and how it has expanded and improved through the years. Learning to understand the conflicts which our world is faced with today is the main task of the American problems students. Investments and the stock market are studied by students in the economics classes.

English Department offers variety of courses

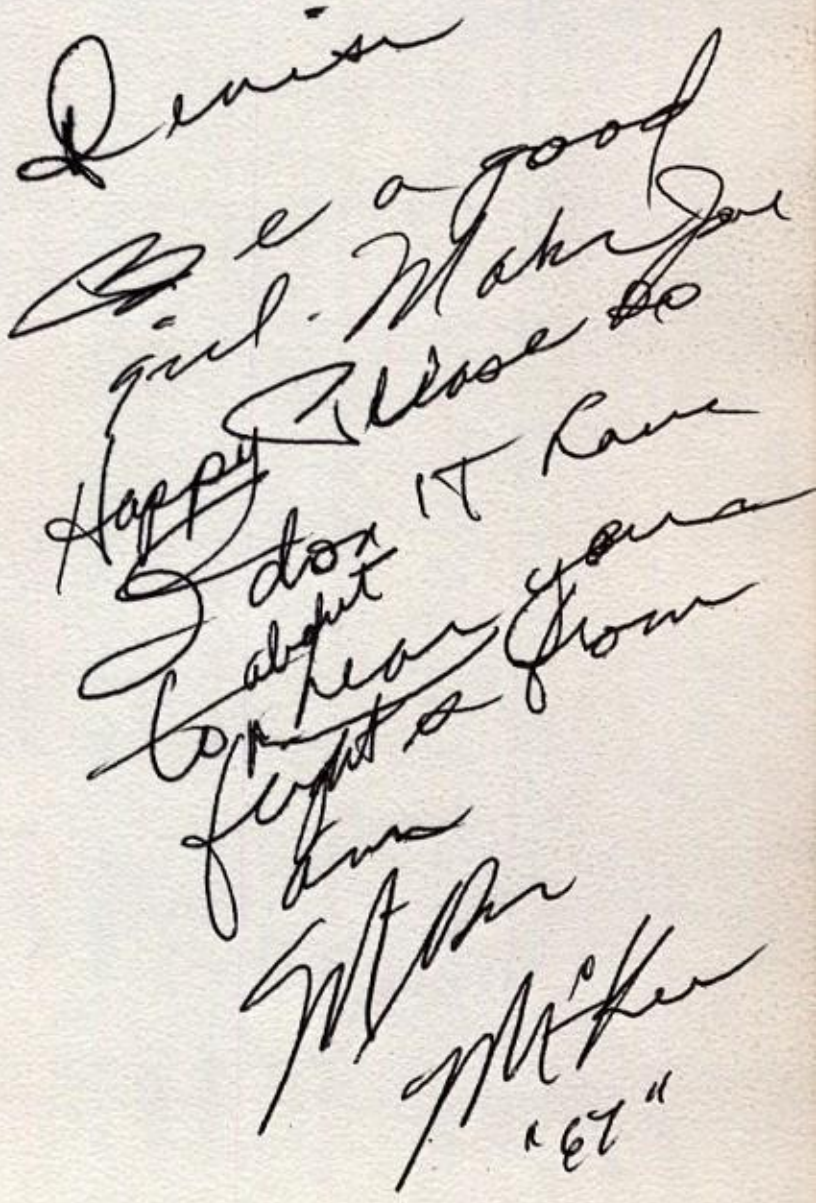
The English Department at SHS offers a wide variety of courses to our students. Grammar plays a leading role in our everyday activities; so it is highly stressed in every grade. From the first tediously written theme of a freshman to the complicated, lengthy term paper of a senior, grammar students study structure and word usage.

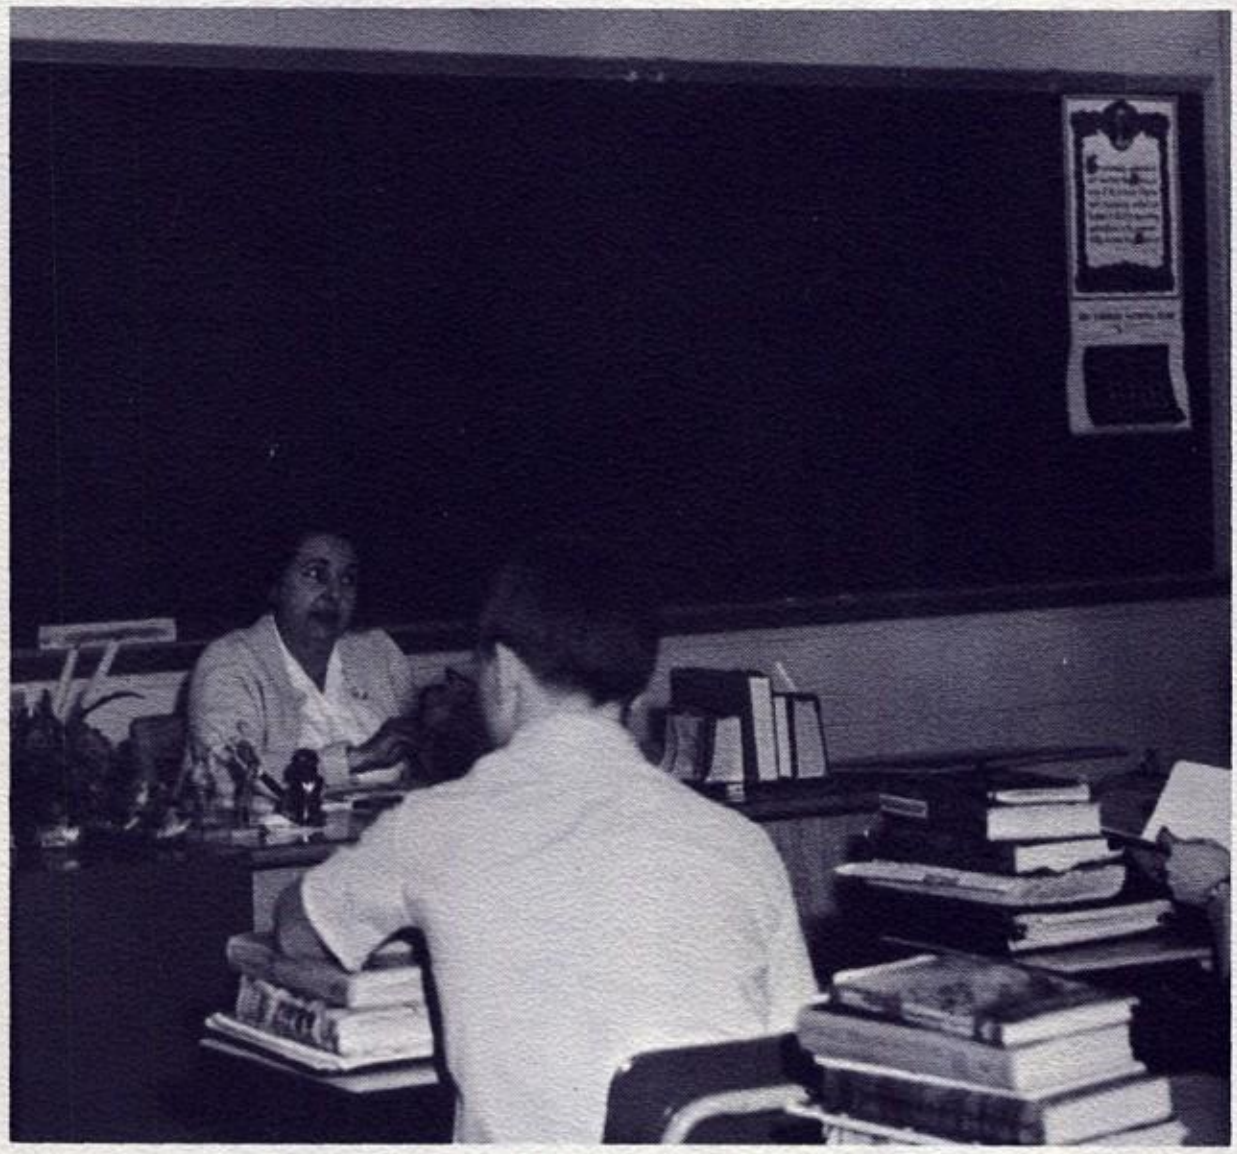
Literature opens the doors of imagination, excitement, and amusement for many pupils. Freshmen begin with the adventures of Pip in Charles Dickens' Great Expectations, progress through Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter during the sophomore and junior years, until, as seniors, they discover the Odyssey, a great classical epic.

Speech classes provide an opportunity for beginning orators to practice before an audience the rules they have learned in their grammar classes. This year several pupils entered a speech contest in an effort to further develop their speaking skills.

The journalism students' main project is preparing our school newspaper, the Courier, which is packed full of events concerning clubs, sports, teachers, and students at SHS.



Language study aids understanding of cultures



Shelbyville High School's Foreign Language Department offers French, Latin and Spanish. They learn not only the meanings and the pronunciations of words, but also the correct grammatical forms.

The members of the Spanish classes study Spanish authors, painters, and musicians. By observing film strips, reading novels, and writing special reports, Latin students gain knowledge of the Romans and their empire. French classes observe the celebration of Christmas in France by singing carols in French and examining customs and traditions. All language students may use the laboratory to develop their pronunciation skills.

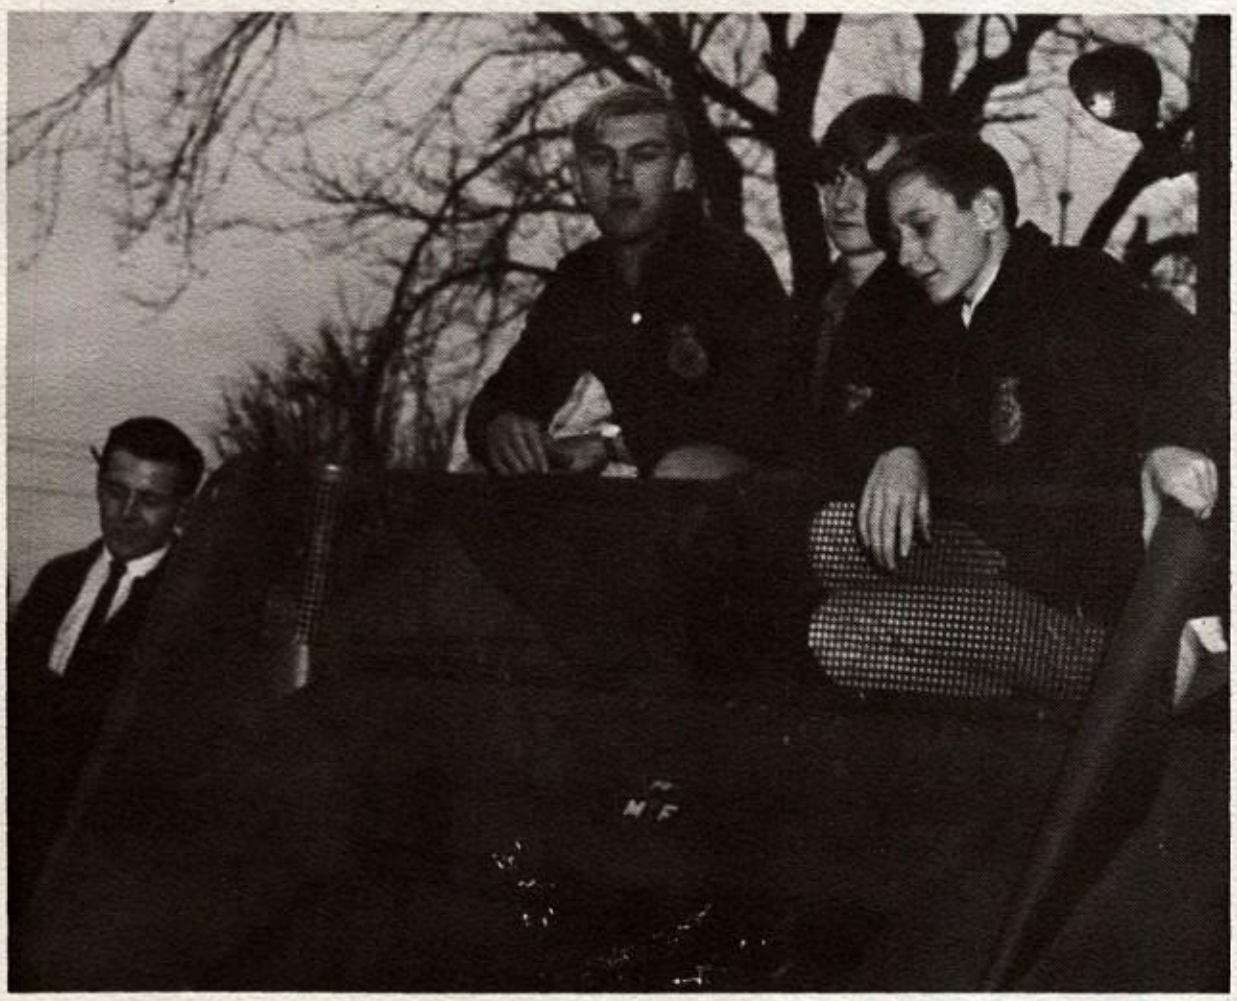
Ag pupils study soil erosion, take field trips



The objective of the Agriculture Department is to give basic instruction and training in all agricultural occupations. Boys in these classes study livestock and crop production, soil types, fertilizers, insects, and diseases. The new equipment in the shop enables students to gain skill in welding and farm machinery maintenance.

Actual instruction on the farm includes such activities as fence building and veterinary work and familiarizes the student with farm operation and management to prepare him for continuing his education in any of the varied agricultural fields.

Well-equipped industrial art shops

The well-equipped industrial arts shops at SHS provide knowledge in the operation of various tools and machines and teach an appreciation for the techniques of industry.

The courses offered in industrial arts at SHS are as follows: beginning shop, woodworking, mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, metal shop, and machine shop.

The class week is divided between textbook study and practical application. The shop projects give the boys actual practice with the tools while they produce something useful for themselves.

The Commerce Department offers a wide variety of courses. In the first year of typing and shorthand, the student learns the basic skills. During the second year, the student attains both speed and accuracy through dictation, transcriptions and timed writings.

In bookkeeping, business English, and general business students study accounting, filing, business terminology, business arithmetic, and letter writing.

and prepare food in home economics

The SHS Home Economics Department teaches girls to be gracious hostesses and efficient homemakers. Students may choose from various foods and sewing courses, each of which specializes in a different domestic skill.

In foods classes, the planning of menus and the studying of nutrition help the girls prepare delicious and well-balanced meals.

Students in the sewing classes learn about fibers, selection of fabrics, the actual process of making a garment, and building a wardrobe.

Fine arts classes bring out ability in pupils

The Fine Arts Department gives Shelby students an opportunity to develop their creative talents. With the products of their hard work, the classes in ceramics, drawing and design make attractive displays in the showcases to brighten the halls of our school. Students "practice" for the future in interior decorating classes by learning many of the basic principles for planning a home. One of the art classes made name cards for each of the teachers' rooms.

The new music theory class challenges its students to discover the fundamentals of music by studying the techniques of various composers, learning to play different instruments, and writing their own music. Our music department received ten first places at the state music contest at Butler University. Annually the band and choir offer to our community many concerts and entertaining programs including the Zonta Christmas Sing, Spring Varieties, and the May Festival.

Faculty promotes scholarship,

To some SHS students the Faculty Section isn't too important, but to the graduating seniors this section holds much meaning. These faculty members have helped each and every senior during high school and have tried their best to encourage and understand each student.

Although Mr. Bell and Mr. Boyd are fairly new to SHS, they have come to know and have learned to work with most of the students. Mr. Blind, who is the new assistant principal, has coached and taught SHS pupils for many years. We, the seniors, will cherish the memory of all our fine teachers who have tried their best to prepare us for the future and, in turn, we hope that they will share our memory.

Organizations

Who creates most of the action around SHS? The members of the various organizations, of course! By participating in activities ranging from library work to Latin banquets, from science demonstrations to SQUIB assignments, the high school students are in the swing of social as well as academic life.

In the various music groups, pupils have a chance to develop talents and experience the thrill entertainers feel when they perform before an audience.

Service organizations play an active part in our school society by presenting programs, working on projects, and sponsoring dances and other special events.

The professional organizations provide a chance for members to discover for themselves the opportunities offered in various careers. Speakers, films and demonstrations help to supplement regular school work in the academic clubs.

To fit every student's needs and interests, SHS offers over thirty organizations and activities in addition to regular classroom work.

Homecoming! The Fall Wind-Up Dance! Spirit Week! Election of class officers!

These are four events for which the forty-seven Student Council members under the leadership of President Bill Haehl, Mrs. Comstock, and Mrs. Reece are responsible. Following the example of our United States government, the members of each homeroom elect a representative and an alternate through which they can voice their views of the activities of SHS.

The Executive Committee, composed of Council officers, class presidents, and the SQUIB Editor, serves as the policy-making body of the Council. As a service to the school, the Student Council prepares and sells Student Directories.

Students broaden knowledge of French life

Although not functioning last year, the French Club is off to a good start this year with the sponsorship of Miss Bodnar. During the year the club members study about the culture of France, hear speakers, put on skits, and view slides of French life.

To celebrate the Christmas holiday, the members held a party which featured a skit in French, special reports about the customs and traditions of Joyeux Noel, as well as a gift exchange and refreshments. This was just one of the many activities planned to inform the students of France—its land and its people.

Beware the Ides of March? Not for SHS Latin Club members sponsored by Mrs. Kelley. A highlight of the year, the annual Roman banquet, is held on the Ides of March. The members make their own Roman costumes for the feast and present skits and plays for entertainment.

Other activities of the year included the initiation of new members, which consisted of handling the "remains" of Roman ancestors and being exiled to the "swamps," as well as a trip to Indiana University to attend the State Junior Classical League Convention.

Membership is required of all second, third, and fourth year Latin students and is voluntary for any student who has completed his third year of Latin.

In its third year at SHS, Latin Club supports these activities by collecting dues and selling paper-back books.

Sponsored by Mrs. Piñeiro and Mrs. Copeland, the Spanish Club holds a variety of activities throughout the year. Special committees present programs on the cultures of many Spanish-speaking countries.

Club members sell combs and toothbrushes to make money for a scholarship to be given to a student majoring or minoring in Spanish in college.

A highlight of the year was a Christmas party. Spanish members sang carols and broke a candy-filled, papier-mache piñata in the shape of a sombrero.

COURIER tells where the action is at SHS

If it happens at SHS, then we read about it in the Courier. This year's staff covers school events from club meetings to sports in addition to running editorials and features.

The journalism students of Mr. Ribble, the new sponsor, publish the paper, which is sold every three weeks during activity period. This year's paper is bigger, has more pictures, and is newly designed. All of these contribute to the new image that is created. To finance the newspaper, the Courier staff sells advertisements and subscriptions.

The Scurrier, a special April-Fool's issue, is also published by the journalism class.

Viet Nam? Inflation? Religion in schools? These are only a few of the many topics discussed by Forum members this year. Members of Forum are selected from the Discussion Group, a Forum-preparatory organization. Forum leadership group, which consists of twenty students elected by the other members, lead discussions at the Tuesday night meetings.

Sponsored by Mr. Hinshaw, who is assisted this year by both Mrs. Murphy and Mr. McMichael, the nearly fifty juniors and seniors in this organization meet every other week to debate local, state, national, and world problems. While students often do not agree upon a solution, each member is able to hear the views of others and to evaluate his own ideas on current world problems.

"Poets dream of the girl with her hair of gold, . . ." Of course, not all of the SHS Sunshine girls have hair of gold as the state Sunshine song indicates, but many of them truly have a "heart of gold" which they reveal often as they work on numerous service projects throughout the year. The four hundred and fifty members are divided by classes into four Sunshine groups. Each class has its own special projects such as making tray favors for the hospital and collecting food and clothing for the needy.

All of the societies work on the annual candy sale to raise money to support four Korean orphans and to contribute to the Riley Fund, a state-wide charity. This money is used to care for children at the Riley Hospital in Indianapolis and to provide twelve state nursing scholarships awarded to Sunshine members throughout Indiana. Barbara Junken, a '66 graduate of SHS, received one of these scholarships at the State convention last year.

Under the leadership of Mr. Bass, general advisor, Mr. Comstock, Mr. Brown, Mr. Gould, and Mr. Hunter, the Hi-Y not only presents the Thanksgiving and Easter programs but also is ready to help Mr. Boyd and the administration.

With the money earned from the coat-check at basketball games, Hi-Y has a spring picnic and awards two one-hundred dollar scholarships to outstanding senior boys. The club also makes loans and helps to provide books for needy students. In all their activities, this club stresses the daily living of their motto, "Clean Speech, Clean Sportsmanship, Clean Scholarship, Clean Living".

Mask and Dagger members keep busy during the year presenting three plays as well as making several trips to Clowes Hall to see other theatrical productions such as "Porgy and Bess" and "The Innocents." The eighty members of this organization began the year's activities by featuring a melodrama, "No Mother to Guide Her, or More to be Pitied than Censured," produced in the grand old style which entertained students before the Christmas vacation. During the second semester, members of the club also performed in "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Not only do club members, sponsored by Mrs. Cedarholm, act in their plays, but they also learn about applying make-up, making sets, working as stage hands, and studying costume techniques as well as performing various other theatrical methods.

During the first semester members have to earn six points in order to retain their membership. These points can be earned by attending plays at Butler and Clowes Hall, taking part in Mask and Dagger presentations, selling play tickets, working on committees and in the Community Theater, and helping in play production.

Lilly tour highlights year

Developing interest in science and related fields is the goal of the SHS Science Society. To accomplish this purpose, the Society is divided into two groups—the Biological group headed by Mr. Sever and the Physical group under Mr. McKinley. Members of both groups have the opportunity to work on projects and actually learn by doing. Besides viewing numerous scientific films and listening to qualified speakers talk on various aspects of science in today's living, the one hundred and fifteen members also visit the Butler observatory.

For the second year, Senior members of the club have enjoyed a day-long tour of Eli Lilly and Company in Indianapolis. They saw various experiments carried on with animals and some of the processes involved in making drugs.

To make money, the FFA, sponsored by Mr. Winchester, sells reflectors for slow-moving farm vehicles. With their profits, the Future Farmers gave a barbecue for all the farmers who attend the adult classes in the evenings. The final event of the year was a parents and sons' banquet where new agricultural concepts were discussed.

On the football field, at the basketball games, and in the spectacular "Spring Varieties" are a few of the places where we see the SHS Band and Majorettes perform under the direction of Mr. Myers.

At every home basketball game the Pep Band adds to the spirit of SHS by playing "Shelby" and "The Star Spangled Banner" plus many popular numbers.

Wearing French blazers, the Dance Band plays for several dances, competes in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest, and rounds off its year's events by performing in the annual May Festival.

The Marching Band, Majorettes, and Drum Majors present a variety of shows at the home football games. Using TV themes, the Band opened one show with Jackie Gleason's theme and ended with the band forming a Batmobile while playing "Batman". Then by themselves the Band officers planned a show which represented transportation from the "old gray mare to the space ship." The Marching Band traded marching for sitting and performed at a concert on December fourth, at a Junior High program, and in the "Spring Varieties."

The Show Group, under the direction of Mr. Outcalt, and accompanied by Richard Gray, proudly presents many shows during the school year, particularly during the Christmas season. With group numbers and specialty acts, Show Group, comprised of the Singing Stars and Rising Suns, performs for the different clubs and organizations in town as well as out of town. Highlight of the year is the tour in the spring. Last year Show Group went to Cincinnati and Lexington to entertain at crippled children's hospitals.

By performing at the Indianapolis' Athletic Club and various state-wide organizations, the Show Group gains state-wide recognition for our school.

the community while receiving self-satisfaction

Starting off the year by sending eighteen of its one hundred members to the Indiana All State Choir, our Robed Choir has a full schedule of programs. Not only do they present public concerts and sing for the Thanksgiving and Easter convocations, but they also participate in the Spring Festival at Triton, making them eligible for next year's All State Choir. Mr. Outcalt is the sponsor of Robed Choir.

Guided by Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Kimmey, the school nurse, the members of Future Nurses enjoy speeches and interviews concerning different types of nursing careers. These programs are designed to give the girls a better idea of what is expected of them if they enter a health profession.

Many students at Shelbyville High School long for a desk in the front of a classroom. In order to expand their knowledge in the vocational field of teaching, Mr. Kuhn sponsors Future Teachers Association. Members of this organization get a taste of their future profession by cadet teaching at the elementary schools and at Junior High School. During the monthly meetings, students hear talks given by student teachers, veteran educators, and college students. One of the highlights of this year was a speech by an exchange teacher from England.

"Snoopy vs. the Red Baron—Snoopy vs. the Red Baron." No, you would not hear that over the ham lines, but the members of the Radio Club are learning what you would hear. Sponsored by Mr. Davies and assisted by Mr. Comstock, they are working for their ham licenses and during the year plan to visit some outstanding amateur stations.

The library workers complete their good deeds by giving a tea for the teachers at the close of the year.

Who are the ever-cheerful errand girls delivering messages, answering the office telephone, and typing diligently on program cards for SHS students? They are, of course, the girls enrolled in commerce classes who work in the office during their study halls, helping Mrs. Craige and Mrs. Worland, plus the guidance department and the deans. These girls learn invaluable experience through their work in the office.

The cafeteria workers volunteered this year to help the cooks at SHS. Besides helping to fix the seven hundred and fifty lunches prepared daily for high school students, they also serve the meals and clean up the cafeteria afterwards.

a review of SHS ACTION for 1966-67

"Hooray for SQUIB Staff, they've done it again!" Yes, the staff has completed another yearbook and they will always remember the delights, dilemmas, and delays that went hand in hand with producing the book. All the staff members will agree that working late into the night, giving up free time, and rushing furiously to meet a deadlie were worth the final product. However, without the fine leadership of Brenda Butler, our editor, and Mr. Klene, our long-suffering sponsor, this book could not have been completed.

The SQUIB Staff spent long hours developing its sales campaign. Interest in the book was promoted by posters displayed on school walls, contests among classes for the highest percentage of sales, and the unforgettable announcements and songs over the intercom.

One of the highlights of the year for members of the staff and other volunteer seniors was working on concessions at all the SHS home games as well as the county tourney to raise money for the SQUIB. The staff was on the go all year in an effort to offer to the students of SHS the best yearbook ever. We hope that we have satisfied our readers by these efforts.

Sports

For many boys at SHS sports activities are the most competitive and most interesting part of their school lives. Many hundreds of hours are devoted to track, baseball, golf, tennis, football, basketball, and cross country practice. They work hard and do not quit until they reach perfection. We, the spectators, do not realize the time and effort put forth by our athletes to achieve a winning season.

Also, behind the sports scene are the coaches, who work endlessly with their boys, and Booster Club, Cheer Block, and cheerleaders, who cheer the teams to victory.

In his second year as head football coach at S.H.S. Mr. Sells led the mighty Bruins to a 5-4 winning season, the first in several years. The enthusiasm of the increased crowds boosted the spirit of our team. The boys improved greatly from last year losing the first and third games, but winning the second and fourth. In our next two battles we were overcome by Greensburg and Columbus, but we had a powerful finish conquering our last three opponents.

Although the reserve team, coached by Jack Tindall, posted only a 2-4 season mark this year, they not only provided fans with excitement and thrills, but also received a season's experience of rushing, tackling, and running.

Shelby's freshman team fought their way to a 3-1 record, guided by Coach Allen Youmans. Losing their season opener to Seymour, the team bounced back to down Rushville, Greensburg, and Whiteland, marking one of their finest seasons in years.

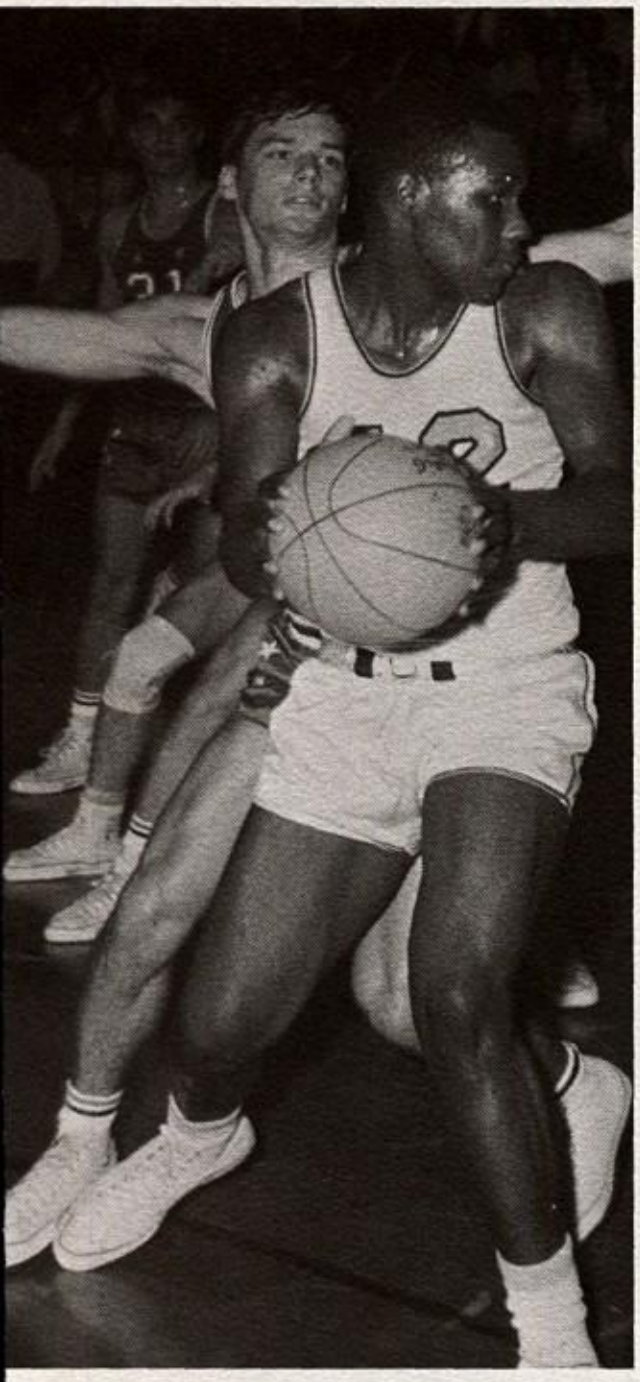
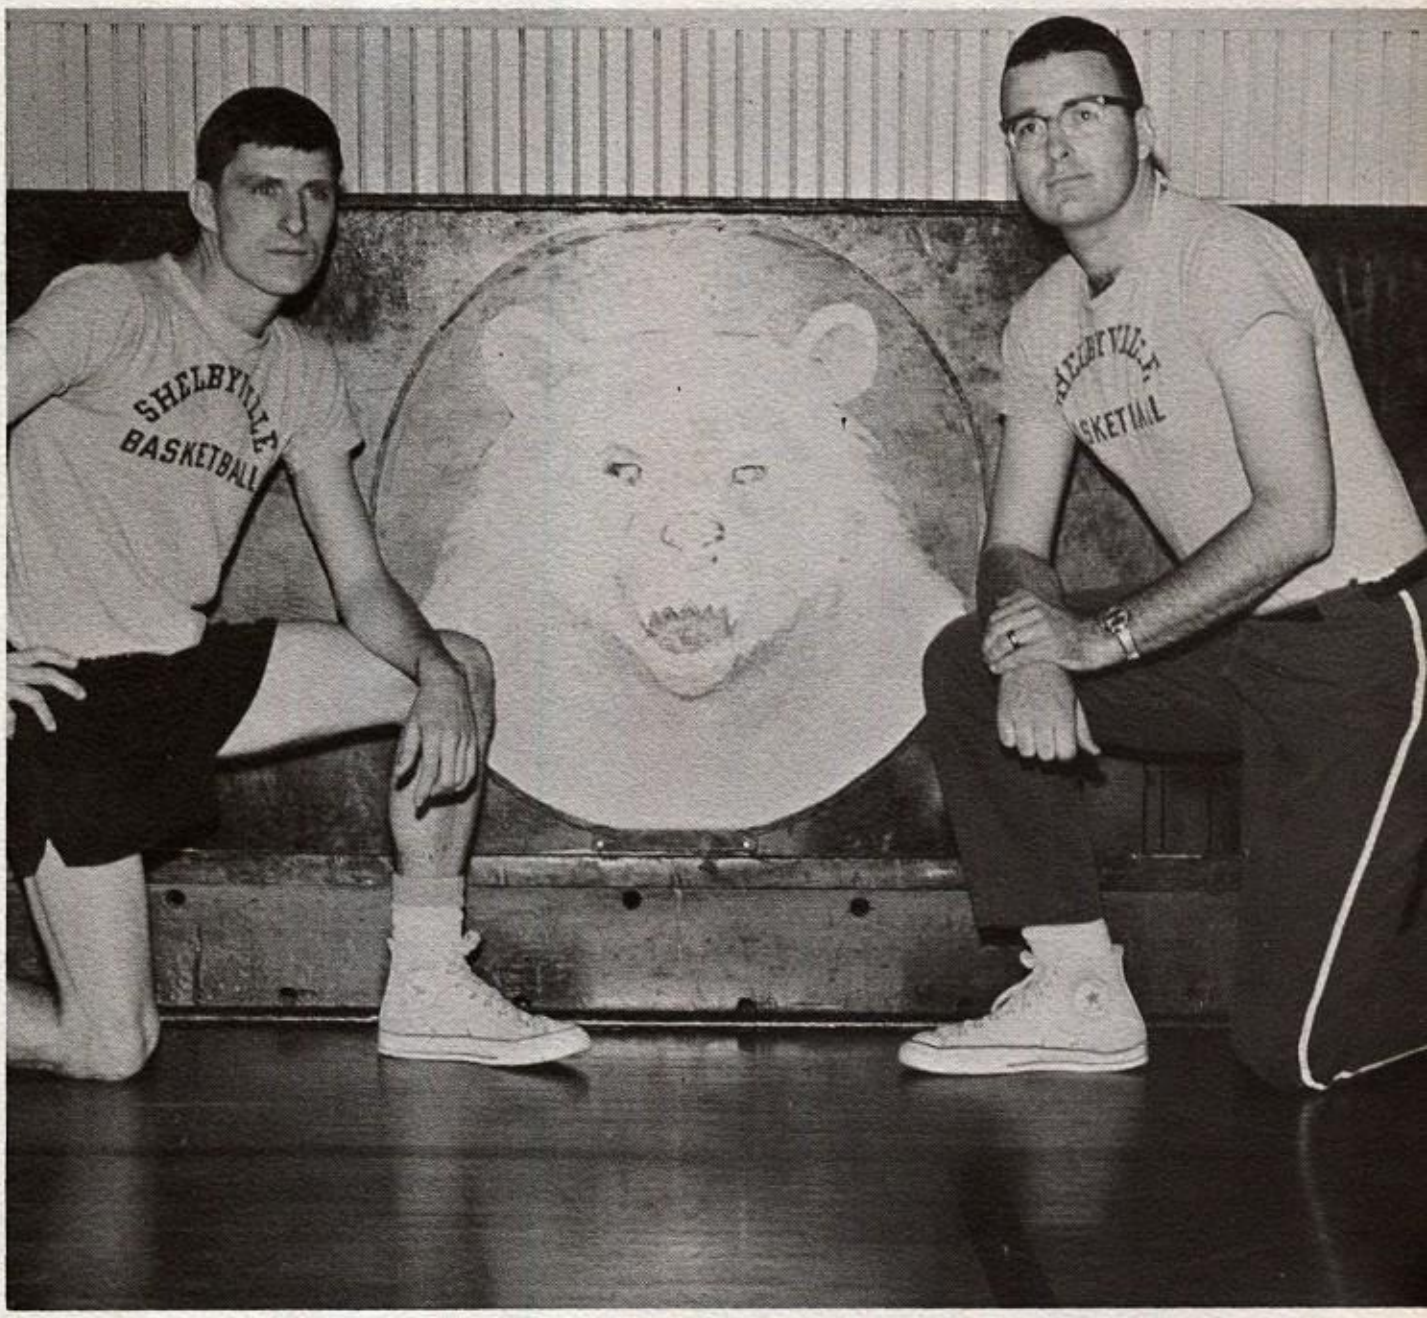
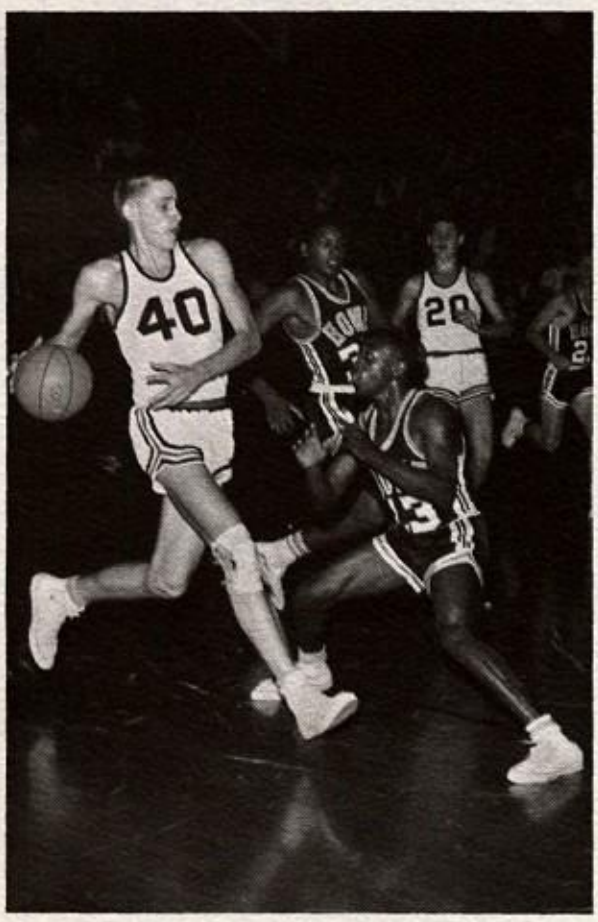
tourney crown and conference championship







In his first year as Golden Bear coach, Mr. Hughes made his debut by leading the team in a very successful season. For the second consecutive year, the Bears captured the Holiday Tourney trophy and the South Central Conference Championship.

The team finished with a 9-0 conference record and a 17-3 season record. The bears six-game winning streak came to an end when they dropped two consecutive games to the hustling Richmond and Howe teams. The final defeat of the season came later in the year at Madison. The bears gave their best performances in the Southport, Greensburg, and Connersville games. The most thrilling game of the season for S.H.S. basketball fans was the 57-54 victory over Columbus for the first time in ten years.

To many of these boys being a member of the freshmen and reserve basketball team is the beginning of a wonderful high school career in basketball. Even though some of these boys are just beginning, they realize that practice and much hard work is very necessary in order to have a good team.

This year both teams had a successful season and it is very plain to see that Shelbyville may be on top for many years to come.

Above—Kim Ash is wondering how he's going to get through.

Bears take sectional with record 103-69

For the first time since 1962, the Golden Bears took the Sectional at Columbus. For the first game, we were paired against our long-time rival, the Columbus Bulldogs. Although they got off to a slow start in the first quarter, our team bounced back to defeat Columbus in the other three quarters with a final score of 64-52. In the Saturday afternoon game, Shelby downed Waldron 68-41.

In the final evening match, the Golden Bears made a fine showing against the Brown County team, downing them with a final score of 103-69. With a record 47 field goals for a sectional game, and an all-time high of 103 points for the Shelbyville team, the Bears were crowned Sectional Champs.

Bears finish second in SCC baseball tourney

Posting a 10-6 record and being runner-up in the SCC tourney, the baseball team looks forward to another year on the diamond this spring. With most of last year's team members returning, Mr. Hughes begins his first year as baseball coach at SHS.

The 1966 season started on a winning theme as the Bears won their first four games. The Bears then dropped five games before breaking their losing streak by downing Rushville, 3-2.

Winning the next two season games against Franklin and Southwestern, the victorious Golden Bears went on to win three games in the conference tourney. Beating two excellent clubs, Greensburg and Jeffersonville, the Bears reached the championship game before being beaten by Seymour, 2-0.

We not only have boys interested in athletics, but we also have girls participating in sports at S.H.S. The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to develop girls' appreciation for sports and to promote health, sportsmanship, and leadership. These three things are necessities of life and that is why GAA is more important than most people realize. These girls participate in bowling, volleyball, basketball, baseball and track. By participating in these sports, the girls earn points for pins, letters, and plaques. Mrs. Greenlee and Mrs. Thurston are co-sponsors of the club.

Spirited students back Bears

"We want a victory now, we want a victory right now!" was one of the new and exciting cheers the cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Bodnar, used to start off the games. These nine cheerleaders did their best all year to boost support for their teams throughout the football and basketball seasons. They spent many in hours after school originating their own rousing yells.

"All for Shelby stand up and holler." Yes that is exactly what our enthusiastic Booster Club girls do—back our teams one hundred percent all year long. Led by president, Sallie Sears; vice president, Molly McKenney; treasurer, Judy Christian; secretary Noell Worland, and sponsor, Miss Bodnar, the club paints colorful and original "back the Bears" signs which can be seen on the walls of S.H.S. before games. They also hold pep meetings during activity periods throughout the football and basketball seasons.

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y That's the cheerblock battle cry" is often heard at Shelbyville basketball and football games. This boisterous yell comes from approximately one hundred S.H.S. boys who want to back the Bears. The Boys' Cheer Block does much to add to our school spirit and helps build up the morale and confidence of the team through the season especially at sectional time. Officers of the club are Mike McKee, president, Jeff Walker, vice-president, and Pete Hall, secretary-treasurer.

Shelby's lettermen receive numerous awards

The purpose of the National Athletic Scholarship Society is to recognize the boys who excel in both scholarship and athletics. The organization is strictly honorary without officers or regular meetings.

A boy must earn a varsity letter in one of the four major sports or two letters in minor sports and maintain a minimum scholastic average of 87 to be eligible. New members are announced on Awards Day in the spring.

Barry Shambach was the 1966 winner of football's highest award, the Kiwanis medal. The medal, established in 1927, is awarded by a committee composed of the coaches, the school principal, and three Kiwanis members, to Shelbyville's top football athlete. A player receives the award for his playing ability, scholastic ability, general attitude, and leadership.

Barry played offensive and defensive tackle for three years on the football team. He is president of Forum, and is on the basketball team. Barry was voted the team's most valuable lineman.

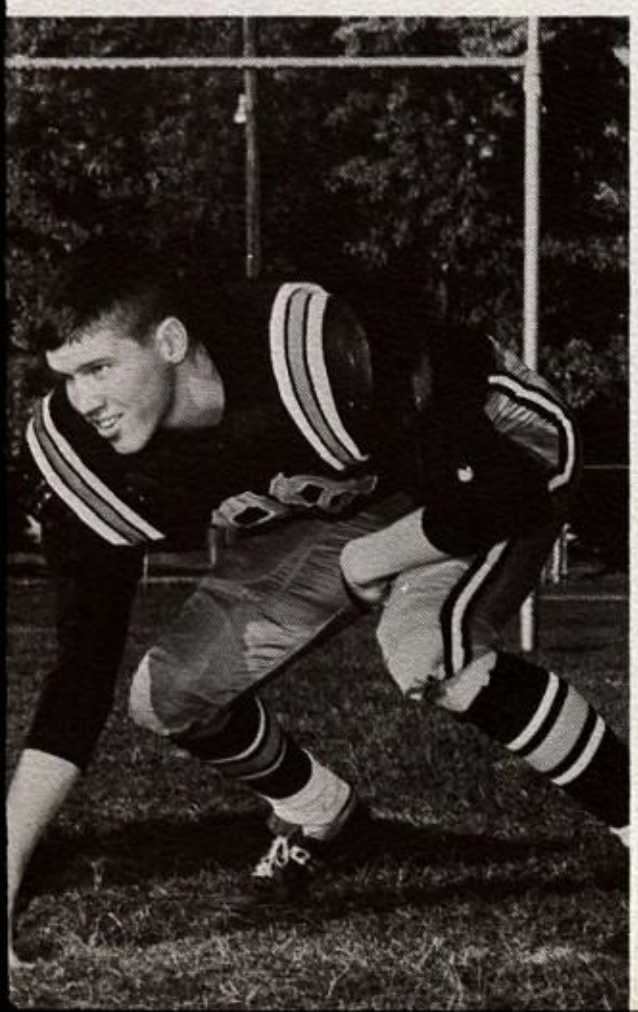
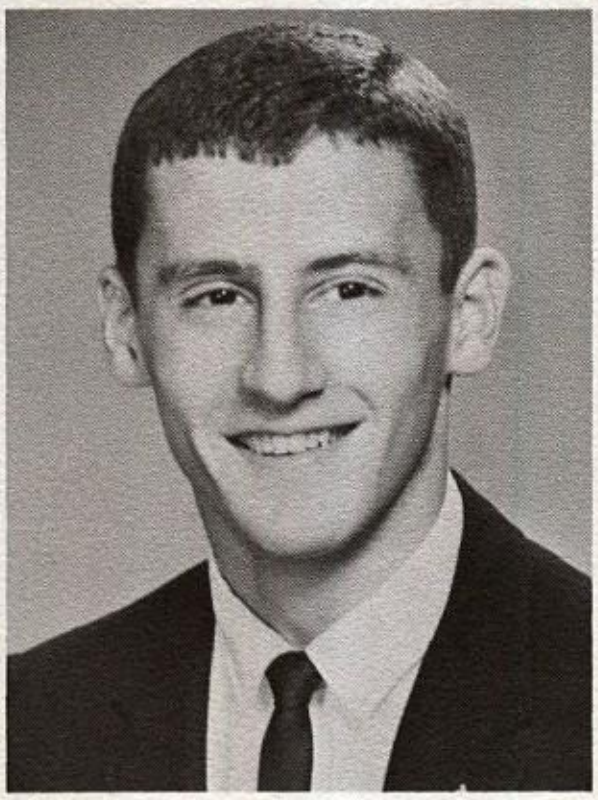
Left—These boys received special football awards: Wes Miller, all-conference honorable mention; Fred Avant, all-conference team and most valuable back; Ron Winton, all-conference honorable mention; Barry Shambach, all-conference team and most valuable lineman; and not pictured Rich Brown, all-conference honorable mention.

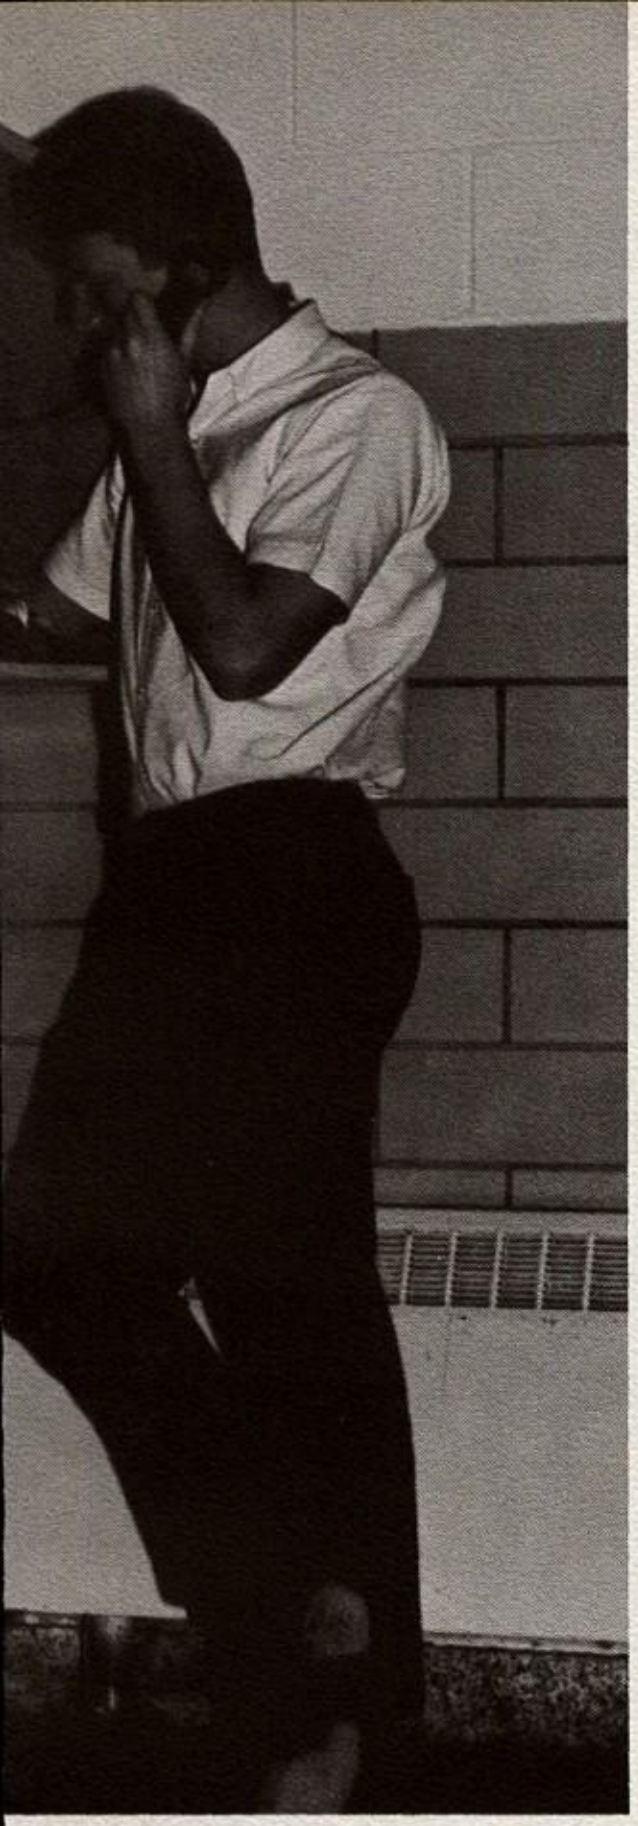
Lower left—Pat McKenney, recipient of Paul Cross Award in 1966. The Paul Cross Award, based on ability, loyalty to our school, sportsmanship, and training, is presented annually to a chosen member or members of the basketball team. The Reverend S. J. Cross founded the award in honor of his son, Paul, who was the first Shelby County boy to die in World War I.





The purposes of the S-Club are to hold in high regard athletic awards and to promote high scholarship and sportsmanship. To be eligible for membership, a boy must be an athletic letter winner with a minimum accumulative average of 81. The boys must also be unanimously elected by the club's present members.

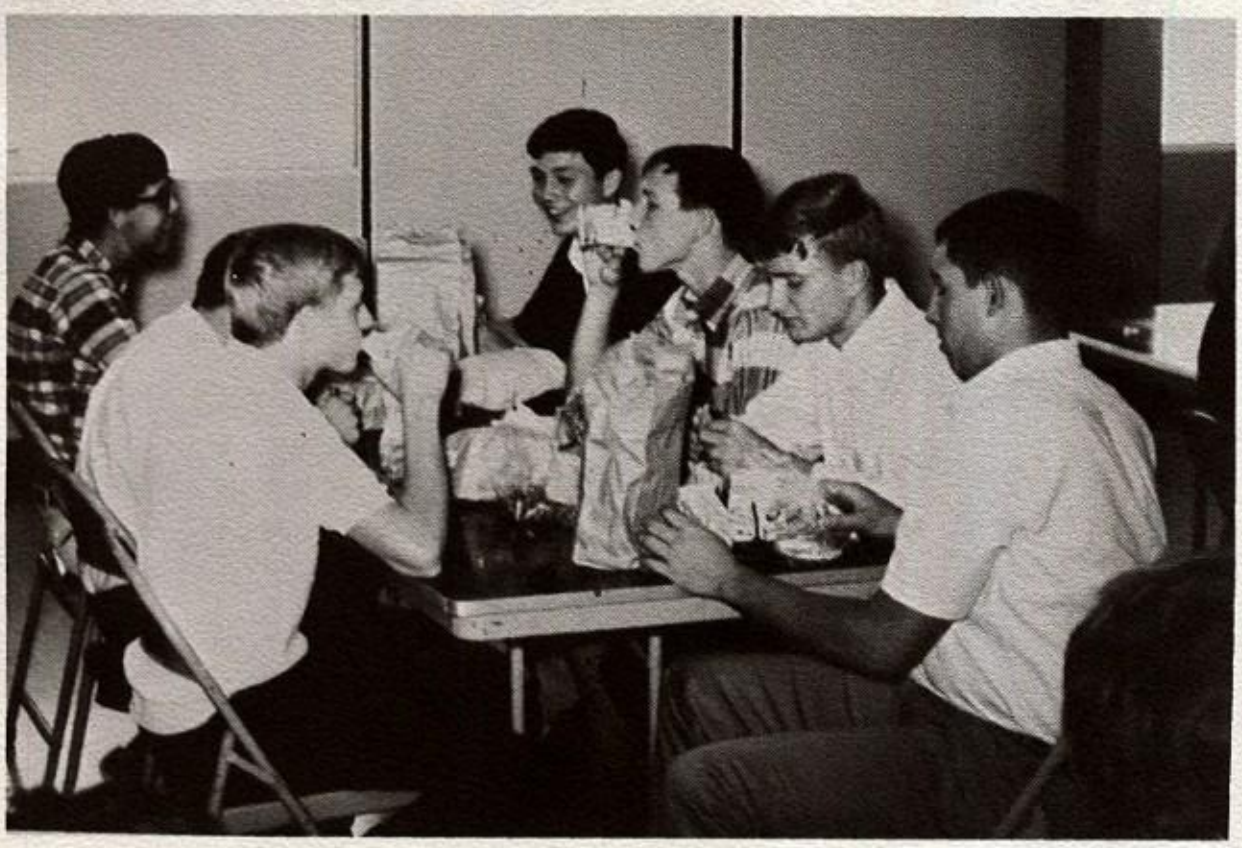
The club holds their annual dinner in the fall with the men of the faculty as guests. The members manage the concessions at home football games to raise money for the club's projects.



People

Where the action is!

dashing for class . . . cheering for the Beats . . . working out a class schedule . . . singing in the choir . . . praying to pass . . . cramming for tests . . . combing through the library for term paper material . . . trying out for plays . . . attending special convocations . . . going out for the team . . . bringing sack lunches . . . sleeping in study hall . . . hurrying to meet deadlines . . . working on the prom . . . graduating . . .



Senior year . . . . .

The years since we came to high school have convinced us that SHS is where the action is! From the first day we arrived as lost, scared freshmen to the very last week as graduating seniors, we filled the time with endless activities we will always remember.

What happened!? Well, we were busy meeting and getting to know so many teachers, having tests nobody found time to study for, learning some job we could put to use in later life, and seeing all our friends at school everyday.

School, a drudge? Not by a long shot! There was the parking lot mud which we sloshed through for two years, a thousand and one club meetings, plays, and games to attend, and at least one snowstorm each winter which, with any luck at all, would keep the school closed for a few days and let us have an unexpected, but welcome, vacation.

Now that our high school days have gone, it really doesn't seem like such a long time after all!

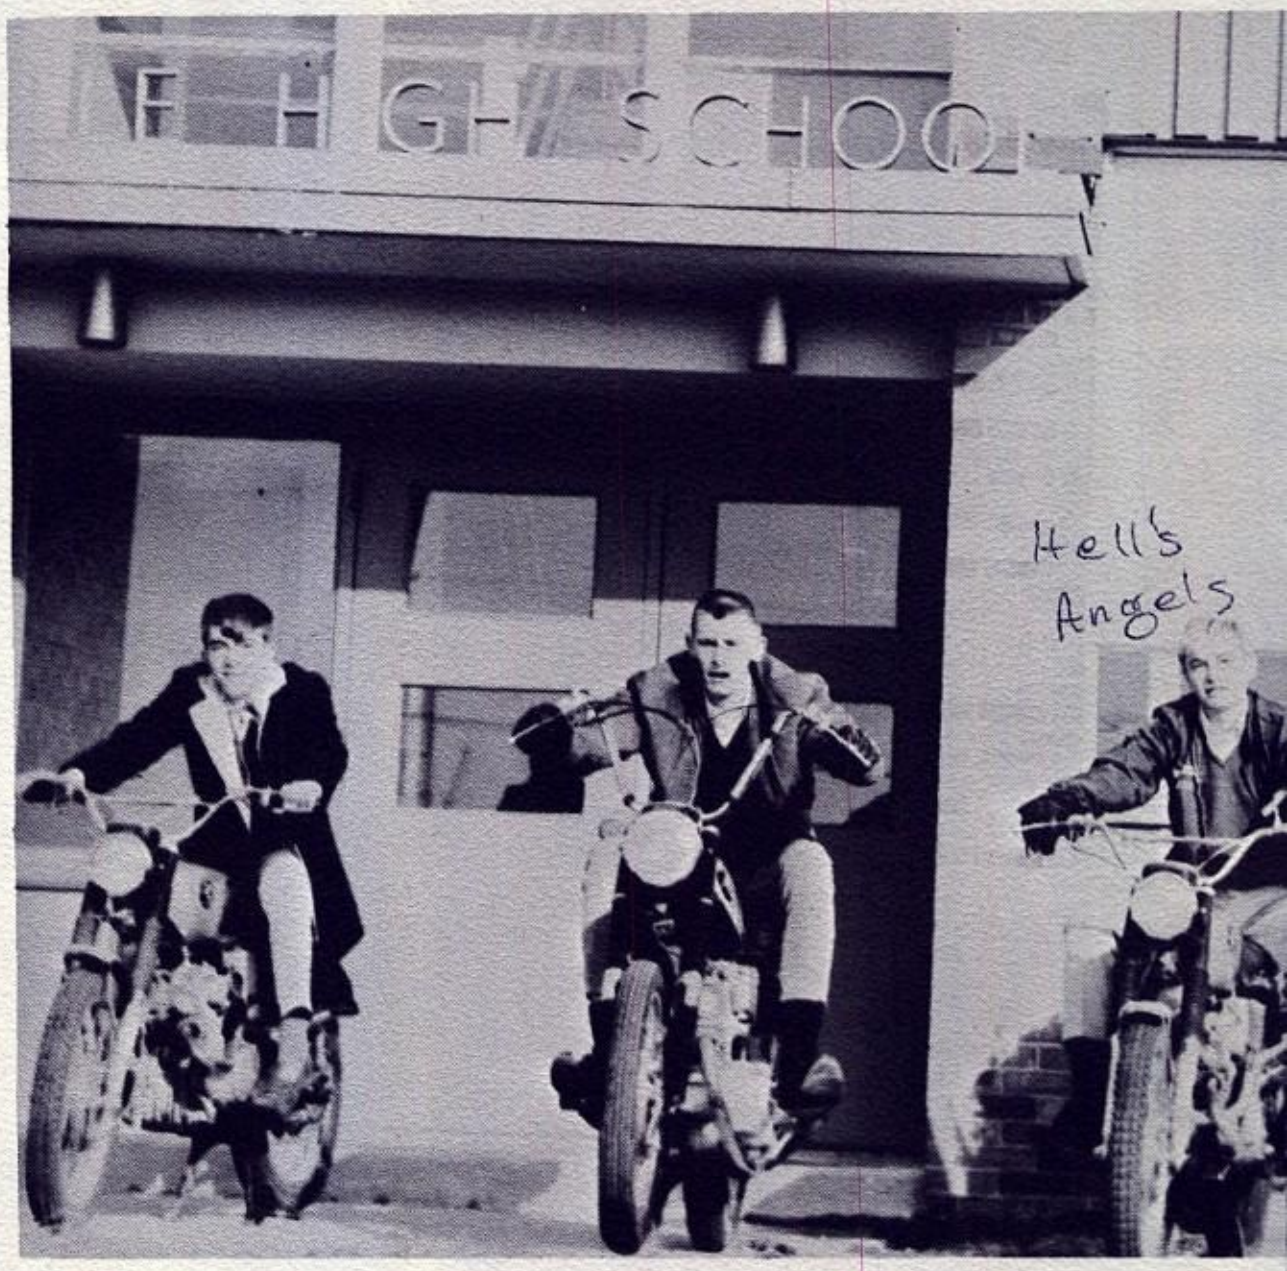
We juniors can look back over our third year at SHS with uncertain feelings. The fun of looking forward to being the leaders at high school was mixed with the realization that next year would be our last at SHS.

As juniors, we began making final plans for college or a job after graduation next year. Besides joining clubs and participating in other school activities, we battled nightly with our never ending homework assignments.

The class climaxed our junior year by joining together in financing and arranging the Junior-Senior Prom for this year's graduating class.



Right—Class officers, Jerry Moore, Secretary-Treasurer; Tim Ash, Vice-President; and Dwaine Smith, President; are ready to lead their class.

Not only the freshmen, but also we sophomores have had to become accustomed to the large, new building which is so different from the Junior High School we knew last year. In the effort to adjust to our new environment, we ran into such problems as forgetting our locker combinations and getting lost at every opportunity, as the seniors are fond of reminding us.

Two most significant events occur during our sophomore year—first of all, getting our class rings, and, of course, becoming old enough to get our driver's licenses so we can create our own dust storms as we drag out of the parking lot with the upperclassmen!!!

Sponsors, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Kuhn, discuss plans for the future activities of the sophomore class.

Confusion reigned supreme as we freshmen got our first look at the "big, wide world of SHS"! But with the help of the office, our guidance counselors, the upperclassmen, and time, we finally became familiar with our new surroundings, teachers, and friends. Since the new building program will bring us an enlarged school and curriculum, we spent part of our first year planning for and looking forward to our future years at SHS.

We can look back over this year at the Junior High School as filled with new friends and new responsibilities. For the first time we were "big enough" to come and go as we thought best and were even able to choose our classes. This year there were only two classes at JHS, since the frosh had left for the new, enlarged SHS building. As we remember our fun-filled years at JHS, we can only hope that our next four years as students at the high school will be as great!

WHERE THE ACTION IS . . .

We, the members of the SQUIB Staff of 1967, have truly found WHERE THE ACTION IS this year as we put this book together. The cooperation of everyone involved has made worthwhile all the late hours, half-finished homework, deadline dilemmas, and frantic final days.

A yearbook requires the help of many people, and our sincere thanks go—to Mr. Ronald Klene, our sponsor, for your understanding, patience, and long hours.

to Mr. Gerald Nelson, our photographer, for your excellent pictures and your cooperation in taking them—even if it meant climbing up on a basketball goal!

to Mr. Dick Kennard, Newsfoto Publishing Company representative, for your guidance and encouragement.

to the SQUIB patrons for your financial contributions in making the '67 SQUIB possible.

to the Editorial Staff for all your cooperation, dedication, and determination.

to you, the students and teachers of SHS for providing all the ACTION for us to record for '67.
